Dear Carmen,

Duly noted. As soon as you have draft updates, please submit so that we can initiate review from our end as quickly as possible.

Please also keep in mind the need to update the respective permits.

Dear Saviour,

Further to your email hereunder with regards to the updating of the monitoring plan would it be acceptable for MRA if I start the revision of the GHG monitoring plans beginning of July.

I am currently working on the IPPC permits' annual environmental reports which I have to submit to ERA by the end of this month.

As soon as I close off these reports I can start the revision of the monitoring plans for MPS and DPS.

I thank you for your comprehension.

Best Regards,

Carmen

Subject: RE: Notification - Start of Cold Standby of D1 Units 1 & 2 at DPS

Dear Carmen,

I appreciate your situation.

At this stage my understanding is that for the purposes of monitoring of emissions, the methodology would largely remain the same as we have in the current monitoring plan – it is more a case of updating the plan to reflect the new 'boundaries' of the respective plants. To this effect, it would be of more immediate importance to first update the permits to the extent necessary, so that the monitoring plan(s) can then reflect the new permits.

Let's try to catch up by phone next week.

Regards,
Saviour.

Dear Saviour,

Thanks.

Would it be possible to postpone the revision of the monitoring & reporting plan by 2 months. The reason being that by end of May I have to send all the data related to the Electricity generation and distribution licence to REWS. This is taking a lot of my time because I have to coordinate with a large number of persons and in June I have to hand in the Annual Environmental reports for MPS & DPS to ERA and these also take up a large chunk of my time.

In July we have the ISO 14001 audit and so in between tasks we are preparing the documentation, training and auditing for it. So do you think I would be asking too much if we try to carry out the revision of the monitoring plan in August?

Thanks for your comprehension.

Best Regards,

Carmen
