

Sediment Analysis

Brief description of services

We offer sediment sampling and chemical analyses, such as heavy metals, pesticides, total organic carbon, granulometry and others. We also offer biological analyses, including identification of invertebrates and other organisms.